

NEW YORK TARRYTOWN

STEVEN M. SILVERBERG

Steven M. Silverberg is a partner in Silverberg Zaltantis LLP. He and other members of the firm have experience in representing developers and municipalities in land use, zoning and environmental law matters, including litigation and appeals in the New York State and Federal Courts. In addition to the approval process for residential and commercial development, he has negotiated complex development agreements and counseled in financing of commercial projects. He has also assisted clients through all stages of construction projects, including drafting contracts, litigation and arbitration of construction claims.

Steve is a former Adjunct Associate Professor of Law at New York Law School where he taught state and local government law. A member of the Board of Editors of the New York Real Estate Law Reporter, he also authored the chapter in Warren's Weed New York Real Property Law "Subdivisions and Site Plan Review" (Matthew Bender, 1990), co-authored the book "Wetlands and Coastal Zone Regulation and Compliance" (John Wiley & Sons, 1993) and a chapter in American Jurisprudence Proof of Facts 3d, Vol. 31, "Zoning Proof of Inverse Condemnation From Excessive Land Use Regulation" (Lawyers Cooperative Publishing, 1995). He continues to lecture and contribute articles on subjects such as SEQRA and RLUIPA.

In addition, he previously served as chair of the Environmental Law Committee of the Westchester County Bar Association, as a member of the Board of Directors of the Westchester Municipal Planning Federation, Chair of the Education Board of the ABA Law Practice Division and was on its governing Council.
