NEW YORK NEW YORK

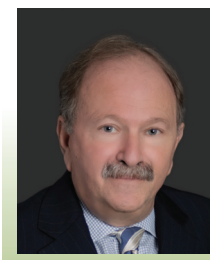

BART M. SCHWARTZ

CHAIRMAN

Described by The New York Times as the person "often sought out in...thorny situations," Bart has wide experience driving meaningful change within organizations by implementing sustainable compliance procedures and encouraging an ethical culture. He is chairman of Guidepost Solutions, a global consultancy, and is a former chief of the criminal division in the US Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York.

Bart helps organizations in crisis recommit themselves to a compliant culture and present a new compliance framework to regulators/law enforcement as part of the solution to the problem. Many of his assignments come from government agencies, which illustrates the high regard in which he is held. This is apparent in his appointed position as federal monitor for the New York City Housing Authority where he is responsible for driving systemic change to improve the lives of its 600,000 residents, and as the monitor that oversaw General Motors' compliance to ensure driver safety after its recall of defective ignition switches.

Bart's board service includes HMS Holdings Corp. (former Compliance Committee chairman and Audit Committee member); first Board chairman of the biopharma company KADMON; president-elect of the Police Athletic League and director on the Stuyvesant High School Alumni Association.
